

If you are a dual citizen, or a citizen of one country and a Permanent Resident of another, you can choose which of the two countries you want to compete for. Once you choose and compete (in a WMA or Regional Championship), you can't change back without making an actual request to do so, which request must be accepted by both countries and the WMA. Having then changed, you can't change back again at any time without getting the actual approval of the WMA Council, which will consider all of the facts and circumstances before approving such a move.
